

Off-white menukaarten met kerkje

v15652

Maak een menukaart in off-white tinten. Gebruik een uit vellum gestanste kerk voor decoratie. Maak af met een waszegel.

Hoe werkt het

1 Trim a piece of A4 card by cutting off 3 cm from the long edge.

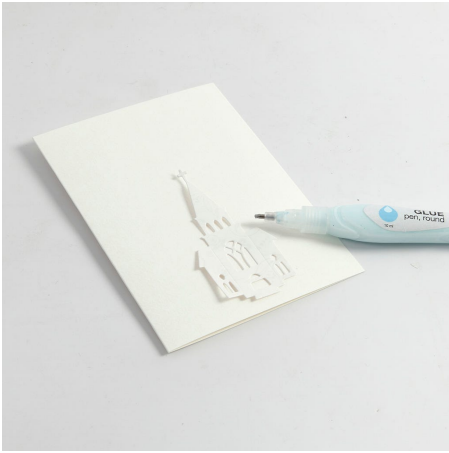

2 Divide the card into three equal sections and score the lines to make a tri-fold card.

3 Punch out churches in the die-cutting and embossing machine from white paper.

4 Glue a punched-out church onto the front of the tri-fold card using a glue pen.

5 Cut a piece of vellum paper the same size as the tri-fold card for folding around it. Print the word MENU at the top of the vellum paper and print the actual menu onto a piece of plain paper. Attach onto the middle section inside the tri-fold card with double-sided adhesive tape.

6 Wrap a piece of mercerised cotton yarn around the card. Tie a knot. Light the sealing wax stick and drip wax onto the knot. Gently push the seal into the wax. Don't remove the seal until the wax has hardened.

7 Fold the church and glue it together. You may use the church as table decoration.
